Discover The Next Step

For parents like you, there are big decisions to make and infinite possibilities for your student's future. And at Rutgers University–New Brunswick, these possibilities will propel your student to fantastic heights. From hundreds of clubs and organizations to our direct connection to the East Coast's biggest cities (and best employers), students are surrounded by endless opportunities for growth. Rutgers students are marked by an uncommon outlook from the very start of their education.

- They take their initial steps into university research in first-year Byrne Seminars.
- They grow together in living-learning communities.
- They travel the globe to live their learning first-hand.

Thinking and Thriving

Whether our graduates are facilitating initial public offerings at Goldman Sachs, scoring music for blockbuster movie trailers like “Inception,” or crafting legislation to create jobs and protect the environment in the U.S. House of Representatives, their potential is bound only by the limits of imagination. Because students learn best by doing, we champion hands-on learning to give your student the best opportunities to experience their coursework.

ACHIEVING MORE:

- The Rutgers Internship & Co-op Program kick-starts students’ careers as they earn real-world experience and class credit at the same time.
- The Bill and Melinda Gates Foundation has awarded 11 Gates Cambridge scholarships to Rutgers students in the last 14 years.
- Goldwater Scholarships have been awarded to 30 Rutgers students in the past 14 years.

Achievements: Winner of the 2016 District- and National-level Fed Challenge. “There was a feeling of overwhelming awe, sitting in the boardroom where some of the most innovative economic minds have sat. It was even more surreal to win the national-level competition, beating out schools such as Dartmouth and Princeton.”

Nurturing Community

We bring together the best minds from all over the world to deliver a top-tier education. Your child can build close relationships with senior faculty through first-year Byrne Seminars, which introduce students to university-level research in an intimate class environment. And with a student-faculty ratio of 16:1 and 65% of classes enrolling 30 or less, your student will engage directly with their professors throughout their undergraduate studies.

“ Dr. Daniel Van Abs, Dr. Heidi Hausermann, and Dr. Mary Nikola have impacted me as a student and a person. All three professors have encouraged learning and intellectual discussions. They are ‘salt of the earth’ people that maintain a sense of humor and keep students first. Dr. Van Abs stretched me, Dr. Hausermann encouraged me, and Dr. Nikola showed me the importance of social intelligence. ” —Kristen J.

“ One day, I want to teach and be in a role like the professors I’ve had here, like Dr. Ben Sopranzetti, who not only teach students these complicated subjects, but they’re also mentoring them and inspiring them and giving them career advice that could change their lives. ” —Lauren K.

“ Dean Sanon-Jules has helped me achieve my goals in more ways than I can begin to explain. She is a mentor and a role model for me. She has helped me academically, and also helped me adjust to college and successfully navigate many experiences! ” —Maya Y.

Grounds For Discovery

Woven into the fabric of the city, Rutgers–New Brunswick’s vibrant community creates a rich environment where culture, coursework, and fun intersect. Students can choose from 750+ student clubs and organizations and 100+ student-run sport clubs and intramural teams.

AT THE HEART OF IT ALL

New Brunswick, New Jersey is home to a thriving creative culture with five professional theaters, the American Repertory Ballet, a comedy club, several arts organizations, music clubs, and more. And with mass transit just steps from campus, students have quick and easy access to New York City and Philadelphia in an hour or less. With New Brunswick as a starting point, your student will have access to the best the East Coast has to offer.

SAFE AND SOUND

We are committed to creating a safe and welcoming environment for our entire campus community. Our internationally accredited police force keeps our campus and nearby neighborhoods safe by car, bicycle, on foot, and even on horseback. Students traveling across campus at night can request public safety escorts through the RUPD and the Knight Mover Shuttle Service. Cameras located around campus monitor and record activity and all residence halls require Rutgers Student IDs for entry. Emergency text and social media alerts are used and parents can elect to receive them.

“ Rutgers–New Brunswick offers endless options for students to be involved both in and out of the classroom. The diversity, academic reputation, leadership opportunities, and location are unparalleled. Nothing makes me happier than seeing how joyful my daughter is to return to campus each time I bring her back after a break. When she is happy I am happy. ” — Yvette Allen-Lomaro, Parent, Southbury, CT

“Rutgers was the perfect place for me. I studied two very distinct disciplines and involved myself in many different extracurricular organizations and activities. Beyond that, the diversity at Rutgers is incredible and it helped me learn more about the real world and the challenges that face our society. Rutgers University is the best place for the 21st century student.”
