Busch Campus Facts

- The Busch Student Center houses one of our two Career Services centers, where students can go for assistance with building their resume, practicing interview skills, and applying for internships and jobs. Career Services hosts two mega career fairs, one in the fall and another in the spring, as well as the annual NJ Statewide Career & Internship fair each year.

- Our Engineering Quad is located in the academic section of Busch campus. It is home to our STEM departments including physics, chemistry, biology, mathematics, computer science, and 10 different specializations of engineering! The Hill Center houses our mathematics and computer science departments, including the New Brunswick Computing Services (NBCS) help desk, where students answer calls about computing difficulties. The Wright-Reiman Chemistry Building contains laboratories for classes and research.

- Rutgers is a part of the Big Ten Conference, which allows our students to participate in the interlibrary loan system with other Big Ten schools, expanding our knowledge base for research.

- Our 18-hole golf course is located on Busch and was rated 4 out of 5 stars by Golf Advisor.

- The Rutgers Serin Observatory, located in the Physics and Astronomy Building, is open to the public twice a month with free admission.
BUSCH CAMPUS: SELF-GUIDED TOUR

START HERE ➔ Cross Bartholomew Road from Lot 51 to the Busch Dining Hall.

1. Our dining halls operate on an “all you can eat” system per meal swipe. First-year students that live on campus are required to have 210 meal swipes per semester which includes a takeout option. The Busch Dining Hall is one of two dining halls with a fireplace! Leave the Busch Dining Hall and walk into the Busch Student Center next door.

2. The Busch Student Center includes rooms for guest speakers and clubs, as well as places to hang out or study with friends. All of the eateries and stores at Rutgers–New Brunswick accept RU Express, which is the optional debit card system attached to your Rutgers ID card. Walk through the student center towards the back exit by Career Services and one of the Rutgers University Police Department (RUPD) offices, and head towards the Engineering Quad. Learn more under Busch Campus Facts. (over) Proceed past the Science and Engineering Resource Center (SERC) and Wright-Riemer Chemistry Building to the Allison Road Classroom (ARC) Building.

3. The Allison Road Classroom (ARC) Building includes lecture halls, computer labs, classrooms, and a Math and Science Learning Center (MSLC). Only 7% of the classes at Rutgers are in large lecture halls, which are typically used for our general education classes. 63% of classes enroll less than 30 students. However, as you get closer to finishing your major, class sizes tend to become smaller. There are computer labs on all of the campuses, and students have $30 of printing credit on their Rutgers ID card. The MSLC is one of five learning centers that has free tutoring for one-on-one attention. Exit ARC and walk into the Library of Science and Medicine (LSM).

4. The Library of Science and Medicine (LSM) is one of 21 libraries at Rutgers–New Brunswick. There are multiple floors with quiet study rooms that you can reserve for groups and computer labs. Walk back towards ARC and the Psychology Building. Continue down this path past the Hill Center to Lot 64. Walk through the parking lot to the front of the Sonny Werblin Recreation Center.

5. The Sonny Werblin Recreation Center is one of our four recreation centers, free for students. Inside there are basketball courts, a fitness center, racquetball courts, a spinning room, and an Olympic-size pool and diving board. During the fall and spring semesters over 120 fitness and wellness classes are offered each week at all four recreation centers at Rutgers–New Brunswick. Leave Sonny Werblin Recreation Center through the main entrance and turn left. Follow the sidewalk along Bartholomew Road towards the Busch Student Center. Once there, feel free to relax and grab a bite to eat.

Thanks for visiting Busch campus at Rutgers–New Brunswick!

Share your photos! #VisitRutgersNB