Livingston Campus Facts

- Installed in 2009 and expanded in 2012, Livingston has one of the largest solar panel arrays in the nation.

- The dining hall on Livingston used to be located in Tillett Hall, which is now a classroom building. The current dining hall, Livingston Dining Commons, was built in 2011.

- Our men’s and women’s basketball teams play in the Rutgers Athletic Center (RAC), which has been dubbed “louder than a 747.” Talk about a home-court advantage!

- Livingston Plaza includes Starbucks, 16 Handles, Qdoba, Henry’s Diner, and Rutgers Cinema. All of the eateries and stores at Rutgers accept RU Express, which uses your Rutgers ID card like a debit card. Students can add money online.

- Lockers that you see outside of Tillett Hall are actually mailboxes. Students that live on or off campus can receive and send mail by opting into the mail service.
START HERE → Walk from the Yellow Lot to Rockafeller Road, head right until you reach Joyce Kilmer Avenue, then turn left through Livingston Plaza. Learn more under Livingston Campus Facts. (over)

1 Turn right and follow the sidewalk into the Livingston Student Center, which includes a Dunkin' Donuts, the RutgersZone, and a radio station. All of the eateries and stores at Rutgers–New Brunswick accept RU Express, which is the optional debit card system attached to your Rutgers ID card. There are also rooms for guest speakers and clubs, as well as places to hang out or study with friends. Leave through the exit just as you pass the RutgersZone on your right.

2 Walk across to the Livingston Dining Commons, which is the dining hall here on Livingston campus. It has a burger bar, where students use a touch screen to customize their food. Exit the dining hall and proceed to James Dickson Carr Library.

3 James Dickson Carr Library is one of 21 libraries across our five residential campuses. Inside is a computer lab where students can print using their $30 printing credit, which is built into their term bill. From the library, turn right onto the main walkway through Livingston, passing the Lynton Towers on the left until you reach Tillett Hall on the right.

4 Enter Tillett Hall, which houses the undergraduate branch of Psychology, one of four learning centers (there is one on almost every campus with free tutoring), smart classrooms, lecture halls, and the Livingston Computing Center, down the hallway to your left. Walk past the Livingston Computing Center to see the Livingston Post Office down the hallway to your right, then through the glass doors back outside. Proceed back towards the student center and dining hall, heading to Rockafeller Road.

5 The Rutgers Business School, also known as 100 Rock, is a huge glass building that greets you as you approach Livingston. Some say that it looks like a Transformer, others like a Star Wars AT-AT! This building includes a lecture hall that seats 440 students, smart classrooms, and conference rooms. The building displays a real-time stock market ticker for students, so it’s just like Wall Street. It is located 35 miles from Manhattan, which helps students find and travel to internships in New York City.

Optional Stop: ★ The Livingston Recreation Center is one of four recreation centers across the New Brunswick residential campuses and is free for students. It is the only one that does not have a pool; instead, it has a spa! For discounted rates, enjoy a massage or facial. It is home to the Go Outdoors club, state-of-the-art equipment, and the gymnastics team, both at the club and Big Ten level.
